The law requires the name of each child, if any shall have been given, to be registered within ten days from the date and place of birth; and the full name and occupation of its parents. The certificate of birth of any child born hereafter will not be considered complete and correct until the certificate of baptism, when baptized, has been delivered, duly signed by the officiating clergyman, to the Commissioner of Health. To enable him to do this, it is necessary that the parents should present the certificate of baptism, or notify said clergyman of the fact and request him to forward the same. It is the duty of the father or mother of any child born hereafter, or in case of the death or absence of both father and mother, the duty of the occupant of the house in which such birth shall occur, and of every person present at the birth, and of the attending physician or midwife, if any, to report said birth to the Registrar of Vital Statistics within ten days after the occurrence thereof. It shall be the duty of the person or parents of each child to report in writing to the Commissioner of Health, on the first day of each month, the name and residence of the midwife, if any, employed in each case of birth occurring during the preceding month, and if no midwife was employed, to report that fact. It shall be the duty of every midwife to report in writing to the Commissioner of Health, on the first day of each month, the name and residence of each person for whom she shall officiate as midwife during the preceding month, and to comply with the provisions of this section in all particulars. Any midwife who shall attend the birth of any child without the attendance of a physician, and who shall neglect or refuse to report the same as required by this section, shall be subject to the penalty of ten dollars for each offence, to be recovered as other fines and forfeitures are recoverable.
